Bonaire

What We'll Do

Lying just off the coast of South America, Bonaire is known for its shallow water reefs, lush mangrove forests, and flocks of pink flamingos. In this expedition, we take advantage of dive gear, kayaks, and land rovers to explore this unique habitat. With our imaging equipment from microscopes to telephoto lenses we will photograph and document the bountiful life that lies above and below the ocean's surface and combine art, science, and music in this blue water Caribbean adventure.
